Date: 6/15/2009

Kevin B. Lasser - CEO of Encryption Security Solutions/Pure Entropy Technologies has been appointed to the Board of the Michigan Homeland Security Consortium as Chairman of the Policy Committee. In his role, Mr. Lasser will be reviewing various policy statements and then presenting them to the Executive Committee for approval.

"The Consortium is a special organization - we have benefited tremendously from being an active, involved participant - at the end of the day we have increased business from our involvement" stated Mr. Lasser. He further stated "this is a very important time for the Consortium and its member companies - The President of the United States has made it clear how important homeland security is, and the companies of the Consortium are poised to meet that challenge".
